Possible Variations or Extensions

- Write a self-reflection from one character's perspective about how the book report turned out
- Compare each of the characters to other people you know
- Imagine you are the teacher, and give feedback to each student on their book report
- Which one do you think you would get along with best? Why?
- In groups of 4, create a situational drama presentation with each of you as one of the characters
- What do you think these kids will be like when they are adults? Why?
- Rank them from 1-4 in the effectiveness of their strategies and debate your choices
- Draw your own Peanuts comic strip with all four characters in it
